Convince yourself that you cannot afford a thing, and you cannot afford it.

If a man with $50,-000.00 a year says he can not afford an automobile he is right.

No man with such a sense of limitation can afford anything.

Of course there are some things that only a few, can afford, but what we are going to tell you about does not come under this head.

There are some people in this world who think they cannot afford that which the amount of their income entitles them to.
